OF THE

CHARLESTON

PUBLIC SCHOOL LIBRARY.

SEPTEMBER, 1894.

"The true University of these days
is a collection of books."--Carlyle.

CATALOGUE
OF THE
PUBLIC SCHOOL LIBRARY.

AUTHORS AND SUBJECTS.

“It is a man’s duty to have books. A library is not a luxury, but one of the necessities of life.”

Objects of Our Library.

1st. To aid in cultivating a taste for good reading.

2d. To supply materials for supplementary study and independent research.

How to Read.

“Read not to contradict and confute, nor to believe and take for granted, nor to find talk and discourse, but to weigh and consider. * * * Some books are to be read only in parts; others to be read but not attentively; and some few to be read wholly, and with diligence and attention.”

—Bacon.

“Reading maketh a full man; conference, a ready man; and writing, an exact man.”—Idem.

School Library.

RULES.

1. All pupils of the Charleston Public Schools shall be entitled to the privileges of the Library on registering name and filing a satisfactory guarantee for their observation of the Library Rules.

2. Where books are taken from the Library by teachers, for use of their pupils, such teacher is responsible for the return of the books in perfectly good condition.

3. Books must in all cases be charged by the Librarian, before they are taken from the Library.

4. Any person who shall cut, write upon, or in any manner deface or injure any book, shall be required to replace the book thus injured with a new copy.

5. Books must in all cases be charged by the Librarian, before they are taken from the Library.

6. Not more than one book shall stand charged to the same person at one time. This rule does not apply where books are used in class-work.

7. No book shall be retained from the library longer than two weeks without renewal.

8. Books of reference shall not be taken from the school building.

Biography.

"It is natural to believe in great men. The world is upheld by the veracity of good men. They make the earth wholesome. * * Life is sweet and tolerable only in our belief in such society, and actually or ideally we manage to live with superiors."—EMERSON.

History.

“The student is to read history actively and not passively; to esteem his own life the text, and books the commentary. I have no expectation that any man will read history aright who thinks that what was done in a remote age, by men whose names have resounded far, has any deeper sense than what he is doing to-day.”
